Dinner Sessions Mark Opening of Club Convention

TWO dinners, a Pioneer dinner in the Museum of Art and a garden dinner in the New Secor hotel last evening featured the opening session of the fortieth convention of the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs yesterday at Toledo.

Married Comrades

BY ADELE GARRISON

Dicky and Harry Tell of Their Meeting With Noel.

KATIE KEPT her word. We did "eat as the rest people," and that dinner was by far the most hilarious and Dicky became downstairs. She must have been hungry for they demolished far more than Dicky demanded. "Before we adjourn to the living room and the coffee," we heard the host in a solemn tones of my Chinese idol, "I have a few announcements to make. First, I have received a letter from Noel Warfield, and he wants to be remembered to you all. He says he is very busy, but he wishes he could come here and see you all. He misses you very much."

"Is that what he said?" Dicky asked, her big eyes wide.

"Exactly in a different sense," she said firmly. "But go on. Did you see Noel? Did you see Paul? Is your father still in the city? What did you think of Noel?"

"I neither saw nor heard him, and he hasn't received the letter. Now, is that quite clear?" Harry said with a smile. "Cause why? Cause he is not in the city. He has been on the road for the last few days, trying to work up some things for the old man in the city. The boat is all tied up, and I'm going to go out in search there are a few details concerning the apartment which Noel has to check. The old man is sure spending money on that joint, and so far I haven't grasped a single reason why he's doing it."

THIEVES ENTER THREE PLACES

Small Amount of Loot Taken from Store, Hotel and Dwelling.

Two Marion business places and one residence were visited yesterday afternoon and last night by sneak thieves who gathered a loot which totaled about $5.90 in money, and other valuable articles. Four dresses were taken from a car parked at the rear of the Smart Shop at 196 West Center street, one of the places burglarized. The dresses, undamaged, were found early today in a rubbish pile at the rear of the North Main street business section.

Two ladies' purses containing about $4.65 were taken from the Smart Shop about 5:30 p. m. yesterday, it was reported to police. The thief entered an unlocked back door and took the purses from a table at the rear of the room while the employes were at the front of the store. The dresses, packed in a suit box, were taken from a car belonging to W. R. Hord of Kenton, proprietor of the store. They were found by Carl Crissinger of Wilson avenue when he was collecting rubbish this morning. The purses taken were the property of Mrs. W. G. Sloat, an employe, and Mrs. W. R. Hord.

The Travelers Hotel at 141½ North Main street was entered about 4 p. m. and $1.25 taken from the cash drawer, while Mrs. A. W. Carter, manager, was on the second floor, she reported to police. Entrance was made through an open rear door and several cans of tobacco were taken from a room near the rear of the building, she reported.

At 10 p. m. someone entered the residence of Robert W. Brown of 181 East Columbia street and took a lady's purse belonging to Miss Betty Powell, a sister of Mrs. Brown. An undetermined amount of cash and other valuables were in the purse. Mr. Brown, who was in the basement at the time heard the intruder enter the front door and walk across the room. The thief made a hurried exit when Mr. Brown went to the first floor to investigate.

THE HUMAN PUMP
By Henney & Cooper.
No matter how diligently we studied the action of the heart during the days we were acquiring knowledge in the class room, when we learned that the blood is pumped by the heart through out circulatory system and returned via the veins to the right side of the heart, and then transferred to the lungs for oxidation, our knowledge is so limited that when symptoms indicate all is not well with the heart, a physician should be consulted immediately.
No one but a competent doctor is capable of prescribing the remedy for an ailing heart—the most vital of all human organs—and none but a competent pharmacist is capable of filling a prescription to correct such a condition.

3 CITY PROPOSALS LOSE IN PRIMARY

to pay a 1935 operating deficit and establish the city on a "pay as you go" basis for the next two years carried in only two precincts and tied in another, according to The Star's tabulation of returns.

The levy lost by a margin of 950 votes, which represents 14.1 per cent of the total vote cast on the question. The precincts in which the city levy carried were Third ward E, 117 to 81; Third ward A, 119 to 98. In Fifth ward B the vote was tied at 110.

The city administration sought the levy for a two-year period, estimating it would raise about $174,000 in the two years.

Relief Levy Vote

The county one-mill levy for poor relief lost by a margin of 1,169, taking its heaviest lose in the county's 27 rural precincts. It was defeated in 25 of the 27 rural precincts while in the city it lost in 22 of the 29 precincts.

In the rural precincts, the vote was 1,481 in favor of the levy and 784 against it, or a loss of 727. In the city, the vote was 2,465 in favor of it to 3,006 against it, or a loss of 441.

NEELY WINS BACKING OF WEST VIRGINIANS

Candidate Led by Holt in Senate Contest Makes Poor Showing.

By The Associated Press

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 13—The strong showing of U. S. Sen. M. M. Neely over the candidate backed by his young colleague, Rush D. Holt became a highlight of West Virginia's primary as returns lumped in today.

The longest ballot in the state's history held the counting to less than 500 of its 2,657 precincts, but to 221 of them Neely, veteran of many a political battle, polled 22,295 to 6,902 for Ralph M. Hener, former house of delegates speaker.

Holt stumped the state for Hiner after the 30-year-old senator broke with Neely several months ago. He accused Neely of building up a political machine with the WPA and of failure to support President Roosevelt in some instances.

As for the Democratic presidential preference balloting, it was merely a matter of how large the President's vote would be.

In 602 precincts he polled 23,070 votes. On the Republican side Sen. William E. Borah of Idaho had 7,903 in the same number of districts.

The registration in the state showed a Democratic majority of 207,000.

The Republican popular choice vote went to Borah, but that party's presidential preference contest was complicated by the fact that some of the leading candidates for delegate to the national convention were avowed supporters of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas.

MARION MAN HELD

Clarence Howard, 38, of 334 Willow street, was taken into custody yesterday at 5:10 p. m. by Marion police on a warrant issued by the sheriff at London, O. He will probably be turned over to London authorities today, police here said. The nature of the charge is not known, police said.

Results of Ohio Primary Attract U. S. Politicians

G. O. . Chairman Fletcher Says Campaign Material "Mutilated" in Mails.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 13—Ohio's primary election results commanded early attention in the capital today as incomplete returns showed substantial leads for President Roosevelt and Robert A. Taft in the Democratic and Republican presidential contests.

Other political grist included a charge from Republican Chairman Henry P. Fletcher that his party's campaign material had been "mutilated" while in the mails.

Fletcher issued a statement saying that a copy of "Uncensored," a publication of the Republican national committee, had been "censored" and matter deleted before it reached a citizen to whom it was sent.

Other developments included the action of the North Dakota Democratic convention in electing eight delegates instructed to vote for President Roosevelt.

Postmaster General Farley, addressing the state delegates, declared he believed the electorate "will indict the President shall have the opportunity to complete his job" of speeding recovery.

Farley reiterated that he believed the President would carry every state in November.

Col. Frank Knox of Chicago continued his campaign for the Republican nomination in Tacoma, Wash., last night, accusing President Roosevelt of "reckless expenditures" and "legalizing monopolies." He also said:

"To attempt to lull the people into a false sense of immunity from future tax burdens by a demagogic assumption that only the rich pay taxes is a form of deceit too despicable to describe in temperate language."

Sen. Barbour (Republican of New Jersey) addressed the Vermont Republican convention yesterday, and appealed for a "liberal" Republican platform at the national convention.

Nine unmatured national convention delegates were elected. John P. Davis Vermont Republican chairman described them as "leaning to" Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas.

COUGHLIN'S CONGRESS HOPES FAIL IN OHIO

of the 13 Republican candidates led in their districts, while none was ahead for the two congressman-at-large nominations of each party.

Former Rep. John McSweeney of Wooster and Lieut. Gov. Harold Mosier of Cleveland increased their leads for the two Democratic nominations to 3,707 of the state's 5,076 precincts. The totals were: McSweeney, 76,584; Mosier, 68,997; Durbin, 54,113; Pattison, 50,432; Cox, 38,414; Dewey, 37,412; Graves, 32,885; Gilbert, 32,015; Buchanan, 25,667 and Fichter, 25,108.

Dewey had Councilman Andersment.

In the Republican congressman-at-large balloting George H. Bender and L. L. Marshall, both of Cleveland, had the call for the two nominations, with Bender beyond danger of defeat.

The vote from 3,555 precincts was: Bender, 92,542; Marshall, 69,314; M. Herbert Hoover, 66,293; Jeffreys, 61,994; Palmer, 51,521; Reading, 45,065; Dick, 34,929; Roberts, 32,240; Martin, 27,672; Thomas, 24,374 and Ringer, 19,338.

William A. Ashbrook, 16th district, was leading his opponent, Lloyd L. Hochenderffer of Massillon, with a vote of 4,533 to 1,631 in 128 of the 373 precincts, for the Democratic nomination, Martin L. Sweeney 20th district, was leading John L. Suliman 9,263 to 5,030 in 135 of 277 precincts for the Democratic nomination.

HINDENBURG ON LAST LAP OF WAY HOME

Maintains Speed Average of 71 Miles Despite Fog and Weak Winds.

(Copyright, 1936, Associated Press)

Aboard the Zeppelin Hindenburg, en route to Germany, May 13—Favored by a good tail-wind over the great northern circle the Zeppelin Hindenburg sped into the second stretch today of its return flight across the Atlantic to Germany.

Despite fog and failing winds during the first day's run from Lakehurst, N. J., the massive airliner had maintained an average speed of 71 miles an hour yesterday for the first half of the flight to its home base at Frankfort.

A radio report gave the Hindenburg's position at 5:00 a. m. (Marion time) as 49.35 degrees north latitude, 26.12 degrees west longitude, about 2,100 miles east, northeast of Lakehurst.

A heavy fog fractured the first full day of the flight after the Hindenburg lifted from Lakehurst at 10:37 p. m. (Marion time) Monday, cruised over New York City and turned to the ocean.

The airship, following the northern steamer route over the Atlantic, rose to an altitude of 3,000 feet yesterday, the commanders hoping to find sunshine for the 46 passengers. They gave up after several hours and descended to a lower, equally foggy level.

Lack of winds during much of yesterday's journey reduced the speed to 55 miles an hour, but faster time at intervals raised the average to 71.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, president of the Zeppelin Co., was in a jovial mood after the demonstration of good will he found to the United States upon the Hindenburg's record first flight to America of 61 hours, 38 minutes.

He beamed with pleasure when informed of reports that a triumph and reception awaited him upon his return to Frankfort.

SENATORS CALL HOPKINS TO TESTIFY ABOUT RELIEF

Appropriations Committee Will Also Summon Others in Charge of Handing Funds.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 13—The administration's relief bill, greeted in the senate by Republican denunciation of WPA and Democratic defense, started its journey through the machinery of the chamber today.

The appropriations committee gathered to take up the measure. It will hold hearings at which Harry L. Hopkins and others will testify about the handling of the $4,880,000,000 appropriated for relief last year.

The new bill contains $1,425,000,000 for WPA for next year. Deficiency appropriations in the bill for other purposes bring the total up to $2,384,229,312.

Controversy surged through the senate chamber yesterday as Republican proposals to put the administration of relief into the hands of states, dismantling the present WPA system.

Heading the Republican assault was Sen. Vandenberg, Republican of Michigan. He asserted the existing setup could not be protected from "the consequences of political administration, prostitution and duress."

Sen. Robinson, the majority leader, rose quickly and declared "more politics" would result from the shift of control to the states.

The majority leader then was joined by Sen. Byrnes, Democrat of South Carolina, who said that the Vandenberg proposal "would delay the functioning of the all important agency at this time."

Another amendment, similar to Vandenberg's was offered by Sen. Davis Republican of Pennsylvania, who said he wanted to "take politics out of relief." Both amendments call for federal grants to states but the funds would be handled by local administrators with the aid of non-partisan advisory boards. Vandenberg's proposal would require a 25 per cent contribution from states while Davis' provided for none.

STEEL UNION BATTLE SEEN NEAR AN END

Tighe Predicts Decision in Craft vs. Industrial Setup Dispute.

By The Associated Press

CANONSBURG, Pa., May 13—Michael F. Tighe, veteran president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, predicted settlement today of the union's long-drawn controversy over craft and industrial organization.

The question has been near a vote for several days at the great unions convention. Renewed debate delayed balloting yesterday.

The white-haired leader of the steel workers said "lines were closely drawn in the fight over the course of a unionization campaign in the industry."

"Any small break may tip the scales either way," Tighe said.

John L. Lewis, leader of the United Mine Workers of America and an advocate of industrial organization, offered the steelmen $500,000 for an organization campaign.

GAP BETWEEN ROME AND LEAGUE WIDENS

Fascists To Drop Out Unless Geneva Accepts New Italian Empire.

By The Associated Press

A widening chasm stretched today between the new Italian empire and the League of Nations.

Italy matched yesterday's withdrawal of her Geneva delegation with a defiant hands off warning to Ethiopia. Premier Mussolini's Popolo D'Italia repeated in its own words.

The Italian people have created an empire with their blood, they will cultivate it with their labor and defend it against outrage with the arms."

The Fascist state let it be known the league had either to accept the new Roman empire or get along without Italian participation in league affairs.

Geneva observers indicated they would not be surprised if yesterday's recall of the Italian delegation led to a complete withdrawal of Italy from the league.

The league council refused to apply sanctions after the Italians had departed.

Great Britain showed no outward perturbation over the Italian departure. Some British observers were inclined to look upon it in the light of a mere gesture.

OHIO TAFT TICKET SCORES BIG VICTORY

Party last presidential vote was cast in the Republican primary. Ferguson is a cousin of his in the Democratic race.

Ferguson Gets Sixth

Ferguson got 18,278 votes to 5,000 for Congressman George A. Dondero of Royal Oak, 3,941 for Judge H. Thomas of Mount Clemens, 2,940 for Secretary of State Clarence H. Kelley of Jackson, 2,647 for George Eppley of Dearborn, 2,147 and Patrick Kelly of Detroit, 1,554.

State Treasurer Harry S. Day was assured renomination on the basis of a 208,722 vote to 1,618 preference. His opponents, James A. Hanford of Cincinnati, had only 21,625.

Clarence Kelley of Kansas City was nominated for the Democratic nomination.

Thomas J. Herbert of Cleveland and a formidable field of C. B. McClintock of Canton and John B. Price of Cleveland for the Republican attorney generalship nomination.

Returns from 4,874 precincts gave Herbert 161,851; McClintock 91,647 and Price 72,826.

Brown Leads Ticket

Fifty-two hundred returns from 1,547 of Ohio's 1,678 precincts gave Clarence J. Brown, Hamilton publisher and leader of the Old Guard Republicans, more than enough votes to nominate him for congressman-at-large. With 1,547 precincts counted, Brown had 109,621 votes.

John S. Klinger, Akron publisher and lay candidate on the Borah congressional-at-large slate had 61,018. This was considerably below the totals of Frank M. Pavlik, Cincinnati, eighth man on the Taft ticket.

President Roosevelt continued to pile up a commanding majority over Col. Henry Breckenridge, his rival for the Democratic presidential preference nomination. He got 254,767 to 43,545 preferences to the New York attorney's 26,258.

With a two to one advantage over the two opponents, Gov. Martin L. Davey was practically assured the Democratic nomination for governor.

Returns from 4,877 precincts gave Davey 161,594 to 87,400 for Congressman Stephen M. Young of Cleveland and 12,758 for Charles H. Russell of Cleveland.

Tabulations Slow

Tabulation of the complicated Taft-Borah delegate-at-large race, which topped an array of district, state, political, legislative and county contests, slowed up the flow of returns.

A heavy vote in the rubber city of Akron put two Borah district delegate candidates into the lead in the 14th district. In three other districts, one of the Borah candidates was in the lead.

Other Taft-Borah votes were:

Taft slate—Former Gov. Myers F. Cooper of Cincinnati, 107,403; Alice Roosevelt Longworth of Cincinnati, 100,258; Walter F. Brown, former postmaster general of Toledo, 96,011; Gertrude Jones of Findlay, 80,271; Carmi A. Thompson of Cleveland, 91,514; LaRoy N. Brandy of Cleveland, 88,942.

Borah slate—Daniel E. Morgan of Cleveland, 86,945; Roscoe C. McCulloch of Columbus, 86,467; Leland S. Duncan of Columbus, 82,416; Russell C. Huddleston of East Liverpool, 81,897; Elsie Bennett Wilson of Medina, 69,819; Charles McIntire of Zanesville, 70,917.

Scattered precincts reported write-in votes for Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, Sen. Borah and others but few certain boards counted the marks in. It appeared likely the extent of the "write-in" would not be known until after the official canvass.

Actually Free

Elected delegates will be only nominally committed to support in the convention their choices as declared to fulfill technical legal requirements. Actually they will be free under law and custom to vote as they wish without restriction.

Borah contested the "favorite son"—or uninstructed—delegate plan, contending it would not give Ohio voters proper representation at the convention.

The Roosevelt-Breckenridge race was an important contest, except to give a barometer of Democratic sentiment. Its results had no effect on the selection of convention delegates.

President Roosevelt won the state's 52 Democratic convention votes with an unopposed slate of 52 at-large candidates to the party's national convention.

Stephen Day Unopposed

Unopposed for the Republican presidential preference nomination was Stephen A. Day Evanston attorney who entered the contest as a "supporter of the Constitution."

Attorney General John W. Bricker won the Republican nomination for governor unopposed.

Both parties selected two nominees for congressman-at-large. Former Rep. John McSweeney of Wooster and Lieut. Gov. Harold G. Mosier of Cleveland were leading a field of 17 Democrats and George H. Bender and L. L. Marshall, both of Cleveland, paced 11 Republican candidates.

Taft Labels Vote Slap at New Deal

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., May 13—Robert A. Taft, Ohio "favorite son" candidate for the Republican nomination for president, interpreted Tuesday's election as an indication of uncompromising opposition by Ohio Republican voters to President Roosevelt.

In a brief statement today, he said:

"The overwhelming victory of the delegates pledged to Mr. Fredrickson and myself means that the Republican voters of Ohio are in favor of choosing a candidate and writing a platform uncompromisingly opposed to President Roosevelt and the new deal.

"This was the issue made in every county. The delegates chosen are determined that a progressive platform be written within the principles of the American constitutional and economic system."

CLOSE CONTESTS MARK COUNTY PRIMARY VOTE

County Contests

All of the contests on the Democratic ticket for nomination to county offices were decided by wide margins or on the Republican ticket where the widespread fight for the nomination as county treasurer and close nominations for county commissioner were also decided.

In the Republican county contest, Homer D. Cole office seeker of Marion, the present incumbent, defeated Harry M. Shaw 5,000 votes to 4,000. Shaw polled 963 votes in Marion township, 774 in Marion city, 1,000 in the central and west wards while Albert F. Harriff, Tim Vargo, D. Shaw 596, Frank Fuller, 500 and H. E. Short 464, Dale B. Owens 361.

The toughest contest was a three cornered one in the Democratic party in which twelve candidates were entered. Returns from precincts reporting early indicated that Harriff had the second place post when 20 precincts had been totaled. He held it through 25 precincts but could not halt a surge of votes that started building up Case's total. Case took the lead when 30 precincts had been tabulated, but it went five more came in and regained it in the fortieth precinct, increasing it steadily as the final returns came in.

Grigsby Gets Big Vote

The most decisive victory among the county candidates was won by Clerk of Courts Everett E. Grigsby, seeking renomination on the Republican ticket. He won nearly a three-to-one victory over his home opponent, William R. Curran and trailed him only one of the county's 57 precincts. Grigsby received 11,564 votes, a 7,949 majority over Curran's 3,615. In some precincts Grigsby's margin ran as high as 15 to 1, and 18 to 1.

The outcome of the three contests on the Democratic ticket was clearly indicated by early returns, all winners taking decisive margins over their opponents.

In the Democratic contest for Clerk of courts, Carl F. Habermann, former clerk, won the nomination by a 2,428 to 975 vote over Lamoyne Green. Green carried only four precincts and tied Habermann in one. Habermann's majority was 1,453.

James W. Harriff took an early lead in the three-sided Democratic contest for the sheriff nomination and won it by a plurality of 1,250 over C. M. Walters Jr. and a majority of 767 over both of his opponents. Harriff received 3,302 votes, Walters 782 and Harry W. Wood, the third candidate, polled 455. Harriff carried all precincts except four, losing three to Walters and tieing one in one.

County Recorder Paul Naber was renominated on the Democratic ticket by a plurality of 1,429 over Tom F. Cowan and a majority of 922 over Cowan and Wilbert J. Shirk. Naber received 2,856 votes, Cowan 1,927 and Shirk 566. Cowan carried two precincts, Shirk one.

Phone Reports Help

Telephone reports from precinct election boards to the county board of elections provided the basis for all election news given out last night until 11:10 when Scott township precinct brought its official returns to headquarters. The first city precinct to report was B of the Second ward when delivered its poll books and supplies to the county board at 12:35 a. m. today. There was a surge of precincts that lasted until 3 a. m. and the remainder came in gradually until Precinct A of the Fourth ward, the last one in, turned in its supplies at 7 a. m.

The first bit of election news was telebooned to the county board about 8:45 last night by the Big Island precinct board giving the results that precinct's vote on the county one-mill levy.

County election officials, who worked late this morning tabulating the returns, did not expect to issue an official statement this morning. They will be released for the first precincts which probably will be announced later this week.

Although various officials of the city have received complete reports they are continuing the work with the hope that a number of precincts some of which were expected to get final returns in this afternoon.

MORGENTHAU ENTERS FIGHT FOR TAX BILL

House Measure Encounters Formidable Opposition in Senate Committee.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 13—Secretary Morgenthau entered the struggle today to aid efforts to prevent senatorial committee from emasculating the revenue bill Roosevelt initiative program.

Responding to a summons from administration leaders on Capitol hill, the treasury head was expected to outline before the senate finance committee the plan to raise a graduated levy on undistributed profits of corporations.

A bill representing the house representatives version of the philosophy had encountered rough sledding in the senate finance committee that was reported. Harrison pressed on an average, finishing of a 4 cent rate on the first seven $1 provisions and then jumped to 7 cents. Shaw continued to gain and took a 45-vote lead with 49 precincts and seven to go. Throughout the final 18 precincts or increase in to the total plurality of 138 over Jones, who in the meantime had passed Harriff.

The county commissioner contest on the Republican ticket also was a lively one for spectators as returns trickled in last night and this morning. Urban F. Zachman, one of the two nominees in the eight-sided contest, led from the start and held a 358-vote plurality over his nearest rival, H. C. Case, who also was nominated. However Case's position as Zachman's running mate was not assured until final precincts had reported.

Zachman polled 1,547 votes, Case 1,358. Others in the contest and their votes are: H. Max Cooding, 1,065; Charles L. Almendinger, 978; John Bank, 886; Jesse H. Hammons, 862; D. L. Breay, 758; H. L. Shackford, 587.

When Zachman took an early lead as returns came in, Almendinger loomed as his running mate, polling second place when five precincts had been totaled. He lost this position to Cooding when 13 had been totaled. Cooding in turn was ousted from second place by Bank when five more precincts had been summarized, but regained his second place post when 20 precincts had been totaled. He held it through 25 precincts but could not halt a storm of votes that started building up Case's total. Case took the lead when 30 precincts had been tabulated, but it went five more came in and regained it in the fortieth precinct, increasing it steadily as the final returns came in.

FOUR PERISH IN FIRE AT GAY NIGHT CLUB

Flames from Torch Dancer's Fan Spread to Draperies and Envelop Place.

By the Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13—Four persons died in fire and panic in a gay night club here today when flames from a dancer's fan spread to draperies and roared through the place.

Of the dead, two were women—one whom the hat check girl, Marion said was trampled under the feet of the panic-stricken crowd as they stampeded for the main hall exit.

The others who lost their lives were trapped and burned during the height of the scene.

Numerous persons were reported injured. Firemen made one thrilling rescue dragging a woman from a window as the flames roared behind her.

Shortly after the start of the fire, Ted Lewis of the club said Betty Starr, an entertainer, was dancing with a torch in each hand.

She swung and kicked, her foot struck one of the torches, and flames ran into draperies above her head.

The flimsy draperies burst into flames and the fire spread quickly through the low-ceilinged room.

The Stars Say--

For Thursday, May 14

Judging by the lunar transits, this may be a very active day, with some financial gain and also profit through labor, investments or property. But otherwise there is the menace of a violent or disturbing visitation that may be an unwelcome or disastrous setback. It may be a fire or accident, or an untoward event precipitated by quarrels, passion or impetuosity. Shun these strenuous and hazardous situations.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year in which there may be some gain by business, industry or investments in which finances are increased.

A child born on this day may be hard working and ambitious and may advance by these but it may be rash, headstrong and indulgent, needing discipline.

Notable nativity: Alan Dale, critic.

Mental Tests To Qualify Voters of Ohio Suggested

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS May 13 The law says you must be 21 to vote but Dr Seth T Haven of the Ohio State university psychology department says the law has no way of knowing the qualifying age

He suggested substituting a mental test as the tool for the age limit

"It would be an ideal yardstick" he said We have just the right basic information as the age when a person becomes capable of voting

This is just another of the subterfuges the average citizen likes like the one which prevents me from getting my hair cut at 2 o clock in the morning If I feel that I can take a real rush of it in the afternoon

Declaring a nine year old matured as young as 16 and some never Dr Haven said

We used to think that giants of the past matured at about 21 and that the mind was also very near its development All of these have been disproved that is [illegible]

"On a general average"

Dr Haven said it would be impossible to say any average age at which maturity actually arrived

"It depends entirely upon the individual he asserted "In the primitive society the young man usually took on more weight and was accepted into the tribe after his 20th or 21st summer But this is modern society The qualification is mental Two years strikes a poor medium"

He called his proposal of political intelligence tests entirely practical and said maturity is the keynote of intelligent voting and that can be measured

"If a person of 16 years can prove himself capable of understanding political problems and governmental functions" Dr Haven said let him vote If a person of 30 or 35 can't pass the test deny him the vote"

He further asserted by a Constitutional test [illegible] to ... the citizen the share of ... [illegible] the will be [illegible] ... for casting

The Hand Is Quicker—

Terrifying as it is the fact of a terrific death-dealer will reach the stage of 100 by the end of next month there is an aspect of the situation which may prove the salvation if it comes. The rate of increase may be checked.

Federal income security legislation or action to raise expenditures for the military services in the treasury at the last session.

The account will contain approximately $55,000,000,000 by 1936. That represents enough to absorb the entire national debt, as of the current fiscal year. Then ninety to 30 more years the federal government will have collected enough money not only to pay pensions to buy to all the benefits outstanding today.

Furthermore since the old age reserve account is expected to exceed $40 billion by 1936 it is obvious the government is going to be obliged to find some means to invest the fund. [illegible]

Obviously a scheme of this kind is certain of a profound political controversy in which the prospect of taxes is the least attractive feature. It is a dangerous piece of business to engage government with legislation as broad in scope as that now contemplated at a hot call. The entire procedure is modified and revised in such manner Congressmen who must face the polls by eliminating almost the headache appointed on the mind the question of their property. It is a question now any more intelligent than any to graduate without understanding the foundation of a republican form of government.

In Ohio History

(From the J. H. Galbraith collection of Ohio histories, written for The Associated Press.)

JAY COOKE'S FATHER

When the Ohio historian Howe visited Sandusky in 1848 on his first tour of the state, Eleutheros Cooke, father of Jay Cooke, was a noted lawyer there. Howe described him as a man of imposing and dignified presentation, and with a wonderfully complete grasp of ancient and modern knowledge, which he could use to advantage at will. Armed with his fund of information, Cooke once "talked down" a court at Norwalk.

Cooke had sent his partner for a writ of distant court and, while awaiting this, for 16 consecutive hours addressed the Norwalk court, at no time speaking on the case.

Stockton, Calif., Police Chief Writes About John Lowry.

John Lowry, alias Charles Davis, arrested here April 18 in an alleged burglary attempt of a Bradford street residence, is thought to be Eddie Bland, who is wanted in California on a charge of murder, according to a letter received yesterday by Marion police from H. Ideas on Quick Meals for Women in Business

Friends in Marion; Tasty ... in a hurry are not the problem they once were. With the aid of the neighborhood grocer and a can opener, a sumptious ... can be served in a half hour. ... woman who works in an office yet does her own housework, such foods are a great aid ... Canned foods today are often more ... and nutritious than those prepared in our own kitchens. The reason for this is that vegetables and fruits are canned at the place where they are grown, sealed in a vacuum can and thus all the precious vitamins and minerals are ... retained.

Menus are always of interest and some have been listed herein. These come well within the most modest budget, yet are simple to prepare and take the shortest possible time.

Quickly Prepared Dishes

Pork and Beans with Canadian Bacon:—Open a large can of pork and beans, place in a well greased casserole. Top with slices of Canadian or breakfast bacon. Bake slowly in a moderate oven of 350 degrees F. for half hour.

Corn Souffle:—One can corn; one tablespoons shortening; two tablespoons flour; one cup milk; one green pepper chopped fine; one teaspoon salt; two eggs.

Melt shortening, add flour and pour the milk on gradually. Simmer for five minutes and then add corn, green pepper, seasonings and well beaten egg yolks. Fold in the whites beaten until stiff, turn into a well greased casserole and bake in a 350 degree oven for 20 to 25 minutes.

Beet and Pineapple Salad:—Grate one can of cooked beets. Marinate in French dressing, then drain. Place a slice of pineapple on shredded lettuce and top with the grated beets. Garnish with mayonnaise and top with a sprig of parsley. This makes a tasty salad after a heavy dinner.

Quick Chicken Shortcake:—Mix the contents of one can of boned chicken with one and one-half cups of white sauce that has been well seasoned. Split baking powder biscuit, either freshly made or reheated, spread with butter and cover with the creamed chicken. Top with the crisp biscuit, sprinkle with paprika and serve. Green peas and celery are a good accompaniment.

Cottage Pudding:—Two tablespoons shortening; one-third cup sugar; one egg; three tablespoons cocoa; one cup flour; one and one-half teaspoon baking powder; one-fourth teaspoon salt and one-third cup milk.

Cream sugar and shortening. Add egg and beat thoroughly. Sift together the cocoa, salt, flour and baking powder. Add the milk and flour alternately. Turn into a loaf cake pan and bake in a moderate oven of 350 degrees F. for 30 minutes. Serve with a vanilla sauce.

Upside Down Cake:—If you wish to use this batter for an upside down cake; melt four tablespoons of fat in a frying pan, sprinkle over the bottom one cup of brown sugar and cover with slices of pineapple. Cherries may be placed in the center if you wish. Pour cake mixture over pineapple and bake in a moderate oven for 40 minutes. Let stand until slightly cooled, turn out on a round chop dish and garnish with whipped cream.

Tuna Loaf:—Three slices of bread; one cup milk; two tablespoons fat; one can tuna fish (medium size); two eggs; half tablespon parsley; one teaspoon salt; one-fourth teaspoon celery salt or half cup of chopped celery.

Put bread and milk into a sauce pan and let stand until milk is absorbed. Add fat, place over heat and cook for five minutes. Add tuna fish, well beaten eggs and seasonings. Turn into a well greased bread pan and bake for 30 minutes in a moderate oven of 350 degrees F.

Menu Suggestion: Tuna Loaf; Green Asparagus with Butter Sauce; Potato Balls, Rye Bread and Butter and Coffee.

OVEN MEAL WITH HIGH RATING

Ham loaf, casserole of green beans, and a luscious apple pie make home coming a grand event. Cooked in an hour, minimum in cost and effort. Bread and butter, and a green salad would complete a well balanced dinner.

The best time to learn the pleasure of oven cookery is now. It is not technique or excess knowledge, just the following of a few simple rules.

The temperature decided upon is in accordance with foods selected. Combine foods that take approximately the same time to cook. A good meal would be roast chicken with dressing, browned potatoes, string beans and a deep dish apricot pie.

Prepare the chicken for roasting and place the potatoes around it. Place the beans in a covered utensil with one half cup of water; the apricot pie goes in at the same time and is placed on the bottom shelf. The beans are placed on the top rack to the rear and the chicken is placed in an uncovered pan to the front.

Place the foods in a cold oven, turn the heat control to 350 degrees and cook for two hours. On an electric stove, the unit is turned to BAKE when the meal is started.

Due consideration should be given to the placing of utensils in an oven so that there is a complete circulation of air which means the proper distribution of heat.

Oven-Baked Rhubarb

Cut rhubarb into one inch pieces. Add an equal amount of sugar. Mix well and place in a baking dish. Cover and bake for two hours in a 350 degree oven.

RECIPE REQUESTS ANSWERED HERE

Cinnamon Toast.

Work until creamy one-fourth cup butter; one-half cup sugar and two tablespoons cinnamon. Cut bread into wide fingers removing the crust. Toast on one side, spread cinnamon mixture on other and place on broiler pan. Just before serving toast quickly, being sure that toast is heated through. Delicious served with afternoon tea.

English Tart Shells.

One and one-half cups flour; one half cup shortening, one teaspoon salt; one tablespoon sugar; two tablespoons chopped nuts; one teaspoon baking powder; ice water to mix.

Sift together the flour, salt and baking powder. Cut in the shortening until it is "mealy." Add sugar and nuts. Add enough ice water to hold together. Toss on floured board, roll out gently, cut with round cutter and shape into tartlet cases or cover inverted muffin pans. Bake in a hot oven of 450 degrees F.

Coffee Tapioca.

Three cups milk; three tablespoons ground coffee; three-fourths cup quick-cooking tapioca; four tablespoons sugar; one-half cup nut meats; dash of salt; one teaspoon vanilla.

Put the coffee and milk into a sauce pan and bring to a boil. Simmer for five minutes, strain and add flavoring. Stir in the tapioca, sugar and salt. Cook slowly over hot water until the tapioca is clear. Stir in the nut meats. Rinse out a mold with cold water, pour in tapioca and set in the refrigerator to chill. Serve with cream or custard.

Cup Cakes.

One half cup shortening; one cup sugar; two eggs; one-half cup milk; one and one-half cups flour; one-half teaspoon salt; two teaspoons baking powder; one teaspoon flavoring.

Cream the shortening and sugar, add the egg yolks and beat well. Add alternately the milk and flour which has been sifted with baking powder and salt. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in well greased muffin pans for 20 to 25 minutes in a 375 degree oven. This is an excellent standard recipe for cup cakes.

Hospital "Tour" Given Anniversary Visitors

The approximately 60 visitors to the City hospital yesterday afternoon during the receiving hours set aside for observance of National Hospital day, were taken on tour of the institution.

Greeted in the lobby and asked to register, they were then invited to join a party on a tour of inspection of the institution under the guidance of a member of the nursing or office staff.

First there was an elevator ride to third floor, and a visit to the delivery room and chart room where records of patients' conditions are filed.

From third floor the visitors were taken to the maternity ward on second floor and shown the nursery, which is supported by the In As Much circle of the King's Daughters, and the X-ray room. The operating room on second floor was in use for more than an hour yesterday afternoon and visitors were excluded. The hospital officials are in hopes that some day the X-ray room on second floor and the obstetrical room on third floor can be changed, transferring second floor into a complete maternity floor.

In the basement visitors were shown the recently completed laboratory where Dr. John LoCrocchia, pathologist and city health commissioner, presides, the city clinic, the clinic waiting room and the boiler room where the hospital heating system is regulated.

The last lap of the tour was on first floor, where visitors were shown the laundry in operation and the modern kitchen before being taken to the dining room where tea was served by members of the Woman's board of the hospital.

Those who served during the afternoon were Mrs. T. E. Sonnanstine, Mrs. Charles Elliott, Mrs. Dan LaMarche, Mrs. G. C. Roberts, Mrs. C. S. Rapp, Mrs. Earle Wilson and Mrs. Carl Leffler.

Two of the pieces of equipment purchased by the Woman's board and shown the visitors were the oxygen tent, which was set up in one room, and the modern electric refrigerator on second floor where nursery supplies are kept. All the linens in use yesterday were supplied by the board.

Marion florists, members of the board and friends generously supplied the hospital with cut flowers for decorating every floor, the reception lobby and the dining room.

SYNOPSIS: Dirk Joris' older brother Rupert has married Hope Devine on impulse, but instead of wrecking the marriage seems likely to endure. But Hope has slipped out of the Joris estate under suspicious circumstances late at night, and Dirk, more for her protection than anything else, is having her spied upon by her chauffeur and by a pair of private detectives. Dirk is not quite sure whether he is in love with Hope or not; he always has taken her part in conversation with friends of Rupert's former fiancee, Elinor Fleming, however.

CHAPTER NINETEEN
Quiet Party

BUT neither Martin nor the watchers at the gate brought Dirk news. No one had accosted Mrs. Joris or had been invited into her car. No one had left the grounds alone, at night.

Hope, having shopped industriously, was now enduring the ordeal of fittings at the various couturieres. On Thursday of his second week, Martin's account of waiting at their doors was varied with the report:

"And when the lady in the shop handed me the box she said, 'I know you look lovely tonight, Mrs. Joris.' "

Dirk remembered that this was the evening of Elinor's dinner. He was glad, for he had scarcely seen Hope of late. The three of them went to Elinor's house together. Hope wore no jewels that evening, except a wedding-ring. Jewels, thought Dirk, would have been out of place with her gown, a pale, silvery crepe, trailing and simple. Her eyes looked darker than ever tonight. Her smoothly done hair was black as charcoal.

She might have worn the pearls, thought Dirk. They would have been perfect with the silvery gown and the dark hair. The ring—the wedding ring—troubled him because it was new. If she had worn it at the start it would have had no meaning. But now— He thought of the unbarred door between her room and Rupert's.

Isabel said,

"Forgive me, Dirk."

"Forgive you?"

"Not for disturbing your thoughts. Only for saying that some one was like Phryne."

"Phryne," said Dirk, "was a courtesan."

"But such a nice one. Anyhow, I take it back. Tonight she's like something out of Tennyson. Elaine, 'standing in the dewy light.' Or, 'Oh, my Amy, mine no more.' "

Dirk smiled.

"I didn't know you read Tennyson."

"I don't. Miss Hazen used to read it to me. You remember Miss Hazen, my funny little governess that you said looked like the goblin in your fairy-book."

"Of course," said Dirk. "You used to threaten me with her. She'd bite me if I didn't do this, and she'd scratch me if I didn't do that. Said you."

"And the worst she ever did," acknowledged Isabel, "was read Tennyson. I remember Genevieve, too . . . your Genevieve. We remember all about each other, don't we, Dirk? You've known me all my life, and you've no illusions about me." Her cool, slate-colored eyes considered him. "I wonder if that's why?" she said.

Dirk asked, "Why what?"

His eyes had moved back to Hope across the table, a long table, banked with white roses, and starry with candles. He did not notice that Isabel had failed to answer him.

Elinor's party was not a lively one, but it would be duly chronicled, and read about by any who might be inclined to assume that Elinor was either shocked or chagrined by Rupert's sudden marriage. Her father was there, and her grandfather, the bishop; Seymour Gage, her fiance, a fair, quiet, rather blank person, and his mature aunt; Ernest Webb, author of "The Black Swan," and a pair who were exclusively for the benefit of Isabel and her friends. Isabel was a lady whose curiosity and conversations made Isabel's life—by Isabel's own description—a nightmare. And the Sanford Jorises.

On Isabel's other side sat Freddy Nevin who had gone with her on the visit to Madame Crowdhury, and beyond Freddy was Natalie Page, down from Buffalo for the week-end. Joe Vincent, the artist-broker, who had given Natalie the little gold slippers, sat beside her too, obviously finding her refreshing. There was also a Miss Tompkins, principal of a school Elinor had attended in her youth.

Elinor was in mauve chiffon, a cluster of violets at her waist. It was her first formal party since her mother's death. At her left, opposite Rupert, sat Ernest Webb, placed there perhaps in honor of "The Black Swan," "Or more likely," thought Dirk, "because he can talk. It would have been deadly if she'd put Seymour there."

Seymour was well down the table between Isabel's mother and Miss Tompkins. Miss Tompkins herself could talk—fluently, emphatically. So could Isabel's mother. Seymour had very little to do.

Rupert, Dirk noticed, was not drinking at all. Hope, beside Elinor's father, was more silent than he had ever seen her.

He felt that they talked of things unfamiliar to her, and wished that some one would speak of horses. Some one presently did. The old bishop on Hope's other side arrived at the stables by the simple route of asking her if they had any amusement in Texas beside riding.

"Or any occupation?" inquired the bishop.

"Oh, yes," Hope answered. "Sometimes we shoot."

Her grave eyes met the bishop's, and the bishop twinkled.

"I know, my child. I have visited your state, its cities as well as its plains. I knew you would punish my question, and I wanted you to. You have been so very quiet . . . And now tell me, did you see the polo tournament near Purchase? . . . Ah, yes," at a reminder from Elinor, for they had all begun to listen. "You were not among us then. Well, you must have Dirk show you his cup. You have missed, too, the horse-show at Piping Rock. But there will be another soon in Madison Square Garden. Rupert must take you."

They were all talking of horse shows and tournaments now. All except Hope.

Yet they liked her, Dirk felt, despite her quietness. He was standing beside her at the evening's end when Mrs. Sanford Joris came over and remarked.

"I wish you had brought your guitar, Hope. Rupert's been telling us about it. Will you bring it to my house on Hallowe'en, and play and sing for us?"

Hope promised graciously enough, and Mrs. Joris added,

"You'll meet a lot more of your new relatives then . . . young ones." As the Sanford Jorises were giving her a party, too.

Elsewhere, Hope was to be under the Joris roof.

THE PERFECT BORE

He is overflowing with "good advice" about everything—usually a gallon of words to a spoonful of thought.

He is restful, in a way—because you never have to do any of the talking.

When you try to say something, he gazes vaguely over your head while he thinks of the brilliant remark he is going to spring next.

All the lights in a woman's eyes are green lights to him. He never recognizes a "stop" signal.

He mistakes audacity for "technique"—and swagger for "sex-appeal."

He never begs a girl to kiss him—he merely leans back and permits her to kiss him.

If a woman does not fall for him he is not embarrassed. He simply concludes that she is "hiding her love." And no matter how often she may turn him down, he is secretly convinced that she is "just leading him on."

He lolls around the beach all day in bathing-trunks, under the impression that he looks like Johnny Weismuller; and if he goes without a hat in January it is because he thinks he's another Gene Raymond.

When he dolls up for a "formal," it seems to him that he is really "gilding the lily," but he is always pleased with the effect.

He is usually a parlor-sitter, who fancies that, if he spends a whole evening on a girl, he need not spend any money on her.

He is never bored when he is alone—or unless there is somebody else around to take his mind off himself.

He goes to church, sometimes—in order to worship himself. And takes a girl along to help him.

He puts off tying himself to one woman for life—because he can't bear to think of untying himself from all the others. The shock, you know!

He has just One Big Love in his life—and all the women are merely the co-respondents. Or his audience.

In brief, the Perfect Bore is the Complete Egotist.

He doesn't need any applause. He knows he's good!

Two of four scheduled softball games in the opening of Sunday school league No 2 were played last night United Brethren's entry in the league trounced Calvary 19 to 8 and the Salem team scored an 8 to 6 victory over Salem The Epworth Bishops and St Mary squads won on forfeits over their respective opponents the Christians and Waldo when the latter teams failed to muster enough players to complete their lineups Games played by hastily constructed teams following the forfeits resulted in a 14 to 3 win for the Bishops and a 9 to 0 victory for St Mary

Fans and players will be given a breathing spell tonight with no league contests scheduled Tomorrow night however the Commercial loop composed of eight fast teams will meet in initial encounters of the 1936 season If the opening of the third twilight league Thursday night is not marred by bad weather it will be the first time in recent years that the leagues have been able to start on schedule

Rally in Sixth

A sixth inning rally which netted six points for the Wesley team came near erasing the eight runs that Salem had piled up during the first five innings of play W Wallis's pitching for Wesley allowed only three hits but coming at the proper moments they provided Salem's scoring opportunities Wesley's sixth inning scoring splurge came with two out Four free trips to first coupled with timely bingles shaved over the six runs which narrowly fell short of tying up the ball game

United Brethren players started early in the game to pile up their 19 to 8 victory over Calvary The game was called on account of darkness at the end of five and one half innings with the score 20 9 but without the completion of the contest the fifth inning score remained unofficial Playing errorless ball behind the excellent pitching of their mound mate the United Brethren aggregation took things easy during most of the contest

Use Loaned Players

After receiving a forfeit from the Christian team the Epworth Bishops loaned their opponents four players and continued in the non league encounter The game ended in a 7 7 tie when it was called at the completion of the seventh inning because of darkness The Christians collected 11 hits off Mauty and Gilmore while Primmer went the entire route and permitted the Christians only three hits Primmer's weakness in issuing seven passes in the fourth inning accounted for four of the Christians runs

The No 2 league team of St Mary's pounded out a 9 to 0 victory over a quickly organized team following the forfeit from Waldo

Wolfe catcher of the Epworth senior team was responsible for the one hit poled out against the hurling of M Snyder in the Monday night game which matched Epworth with Forest Lawn Wolfe married Snyder's possibility of a no hit game when he singled in the third inning Marquis Epworth third baseman was incorrectly given credit for a hit in yesterday's report of the game

THOSE of you if any who date on statistics or who happen to be of a geographical turn of mind might be interested to hear a little dope on the native habitat of that species of native American wild life the baseball player A rapid survey indicates among other useless data that

(1) California has more native sons in the major leagues than any other state

(2) The Southwest seems to produce more great pit heirs and outstanding stars than any other section

(3) Small towns turn out the majority of baseball stars

The big cities can also boast of some outstanding diamond products such as Greenberg Gehrig and Vosmik to name a trio offhand

The first proposition as to the preponderance of Californians in the majors requires no elucidation Maybe it's a boost for California sunshine

The Southwest's pitchers of phenomenal pitchers in more startling Carl Hubbell Dizzy and Daffy Dean Lon Warneke and Schoolboy Rowe for example all hail from hamlets in Oklahoma Missouri and Arkansas

Small towns have always predominated as producers of baseball talent Mathewson Cobb Speaker Cy Young and Walter Johnson in the past all were small town boys who showed the city slickers a thing or two

On the other hand baseball's greatest of all time the one and only Babe Ruth came from Baltimore which is not exactly a village

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES Hank Hankinson 21 Akron O knocked out Kid Wolf 19 Germany (3) Leo Diaz 18 Mexico City outpointed Dutch Hefron 152½ Los Angeles

Myles Thoming recently named manager of the Fiffin club of the Ohio State league has been in professional baseball since 1921 He was with the New York Yankees for four seasons and the Washington Senators for two Thoming a pitcher had his best season in 1925 when he won 26 games and lost eight for Toronto of the International league It was on the strength of that record that he went to the majors He's 36 years old and a graduate of Penn State college

The Cincinnati Reds and the Detroit Tigers originally were scheduled to play one of their exhibition games at Portsmouth O The game was cancelled however when officials of the major league clubs wanted to charge a top of $15 Alex Heaps president of the Portsmouth club of the Mid Atlantic league who was to promote the game declined to let the big leaguers use his park when they couldn't reduce the admission price

Season passes to all American Association parks issued baseball writers and officials all are No 1 President George M Trautman's little stunt led to a number of inflated egos until the recipients began comparing their tickets

Browns Again Become Jinx Team of Yankees

Pick American League Leaders for 7-0 Shutout To End String of 13 Straight Defeats.

By The Associated Press

The New York Yankees and the American league race are wondering whether the Browns from again are going to form a mighty wrench into the pennant machinery

The Browns were the bane of the Yankees last year turning the trick when the McCarthymen were in the opposite dugout and then becoming just as tough when the Tigers happened to be the foe They were a big help in Detroit's march to the flag

The Browns with 13 straight defeats behind them picked on the Yankees yesterday to break their losing streak with a 7-0 shutout The Red Sox also were shut out 5-0 by the Tigers and as the Yankees remained in the van of the race

Al Thomas starting his first game allowed but four hits as he

[illegible] the Yankee batters Pat Malone being driven to Bump Hadley

Lefty Gomez tuned in the best performance of the day as he let the Red Sox down with three hits Jimmie Foxx got three of them off him in the sixth inning The Tigers collected eight runs off Tex Carleton in the fifth one of them a homer by Goose Goslin

Dizzy Dean was shelled with 14 hits as the Dodgers beat the Cardinals 5-2 with Fat Frankie Frandt winning his first game of the season Frandt got the Cards to four hits in eight innings The game was marked by bickering between Manager Casey Stengel of the Dodgers and Leo Durocher of the Cards and they met behind the grandstand after the game to settle their differences Durocher said Casey hit him with a bat but Stengel insisted that it merely was his fist Frankie Frisch broke up the battle

For the second day in a row the Giants won a ball game in the ninth inning Travis Jackson hitting a clean single to score Mel Ott for a 3-2 win

The Cincinnati Reds sent the Phillies into the National league cellar when they beat them 6-1 Lew Riggs Reds third sacker sent home the winning runs as he singled with the bases loaded and two out in the seventh

Dizzy Dean and an approaching thunderstorm halted the Bees Pirates game with the score 5-all in the tenth inning

Two other games were called on account of rain Washington on held a 3-0 lead over the White Sox when the rain came in the third inning and the game between the Athletics and the Cleveland Indians was called in the second with the Indians in the lead 2-1

STOCKS CLIMB AT SNAIL PACE

Alcohols Lead Slow Advance Aided by Industrial Leaders.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 13—Another horse-and-buggy stock market today pulled speculatives ahead for gains of fractions to 2 or more points.

Alcohol issues led the plodding advance, with scattered industrials not far behind.

Principal gainers, near the start of the fourth hour, included Distillers Corp, Hiram Walker, U. S Industrial Alcohol, National Distillers, Schenley, du Pont, American Can, Westinghouse, Douglas Aircraft, Liggett & Myers "B," Anaconda, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Santa Fe, U. S. Steel and Chrysler.

Only slightly higher were such stocks as Bethlehem, General Motors, Consolidated Edison, American Telephone, North American, Southern Pacific and New York Central.

Bonds were little better than steady. Wheat and cotton were moderately improved. Foreign currencies were inclined to ease in terms of the dollar.

Favorable industrial news continued to be the principal sustaining market influence.

Current steel demand was reported by "Iron Age" as "extremely encouraging" with current mill operations at 67½ per cent of capacity, only one-half point under the previous week's figure.

For the week ended May 9, the Associated Press index of electric power output advanced to the highest point in history.

The French franc, at the beginning of foreign exchange transactions, was off 00½ of a cent at 6.59½ cents, and sterling was unchanged at $4.97⅝.

Traders Also Believe Yesterday's Selling Spree Was Overdone.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 13—Refusal of Liverpool to follow declines this side of the Atlantic, together with a rise of sterling led to wheat price upturns here today. Bulls said yesterday's selling had been overdone.

Opening unchanged to ⅜ up, May 82¾, July 84⅞@85, wheat soon went higher all around. Corn started unchanged to ⅛ advance, May 62¾, and then held near to these limits.

ON THE POLITICAL FRONT

Mrs. June Fickel

By The Associated Press

Mrs. June Fickel of Iowa, the Democratic "grass tramper" of 1932, expects to tramp more mid-dlewestern sod in 1936. She won the title four years ago because of her activity in stumping all parts of the farm belt for Roosevelt.

She was a farmer before she was drafted as assistant director of the women's division of her party, so could talk farm problems with authority. She was a professional singer, so her voice carried well to the rear of the tent. She is a breezy, unaffected, willy western woman, so even the men folk like to hear her.

Now that four years have passed she knows much more than the farm sector of the new deal. She will go back in tramping grass shortly, and she won't stop until the election is over. (Tomorrow—James W. Wadsworth)

HARDING CONSIDERS NIGHT GRID GAMES

School Athletic Board Turns Proposal Over to Committee for Investigation.

The possibility of holding night scholastic football games at Harding High stadium next fall was turned over to a committee for thorough investigation when members of the Athletic Board of the city schools met last night at Harding High school.

Dewey N. Bohyer, Harding High athletic director, was named chairman of the investigating group. Other members are Don Howard, member of the board of education, Paul Huffman, faculty manager, and E. H. Shade, treasurer of the athletic association.

The committee is to determine the installation and operating cost, along with the feasibility of night games, and report to the athletic board at a later date. The cost of a lighting system, if and when one is approved, would be borne by the athletic board, members said. Principal K. H. Marshall was in charge of the meeting last night. Others who attended are Carl Cramer, Harding High coach; William Williams, assistant coach; Howard Hoffman, Central Junior High coach; Eugene Ault, Vernon Heights Junior High coach; C. H. Hannahs, Edison Junior High coach.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, O., May 13—Taft-pledged district delegates and alternates to the national Republican convention defeated the Borah candidates by more than two to one in one of the heaviest primary votes cast in Union county, a Republican stronghold. The total Republican vote was 4,001, and the Democratic, 1,491.

The vote for the Taft delegates was Cora S. Roland, 1,463, and Lewis L. Miller, 1,365, and for the Borah delegates W. B. Lewis, 833, and W. B. Florence, 344.
